IN G.O.P. CAMPAIGN GUARD COMPLAINTS

Result of Big Conference.

GLAD TO BE BACK IN FOLD ASKS REPLY TO HIS INQUIRY

Plenty of Money Said to Be in Sight-Close States to Receive Full Attention.

BY N. O. MESSENGER.

NEW YORK, July 21.-Summing up results of yesterday's conferences of republican campaign committees and subcommittees, one of the leaders said:

"From now on there will be some 'old guard' practical politics in the campaign."

He elaborated by pointing out that there are men in the management who "know how to do things in a big way, in a practical way, and that they will All the men parties to yesterday's confab went away from New York pleased with the work set afoot.

Hughes was not inclined to think that bult could be found upon this score. But next week will witness some speeding up.

Progressive Enthusiasm.

One important and significant feature yesterday's board meeting was the enusiasm displayed by the progressiv ers of the campaign committee. It was commented upon by many that Scorge W. Perkins, former angel of the ers, manifested especial interest and vigor in the plans for the campaign Se made a number of suggestions of prac

James R Garfield was on his toes also. There was no mistaking the air of satisfaction he wore at being back in ine house of his father. You would never have guessed he had been away.

The only progressive who seemed ill at ease was Mr. Ickes of Chicago. Inasmuch as it has only been a few months since he couldn't find things hard enough to say about the republicans, he prebably felt a bit strange to find himself in the heart of republican councils. But he was the fair-haired boy to Mr. Hughes, and they are not going to let Mayor Thompson make let Mayor Thompson make

The special senatorial committee got right down to cases. The senatorial campaigns in the close states will be pushed with vigor. The Maine campaign will open August 21, and will not fing a moment.

The congressional committee promised 400 speeches to be made in the state of Maine in the coming campaign. That committee also gave assurances of active work in other states and promised the national organization a rousing republican majority in the next House of Representatives.

Mr. Hughes conferred with some of the leaders about his speech of acceptance upon which he is working assiduously. Great interest attaches to this utterance, which will be the keynote of the campaign and the cue for all the campaign spellbinders.

"Judging from the way he handed it to them in his announcement to the Chicago convention," said one of the leaders, "we are not entertaining any doubts that it will be a good one."

No attempt was being made to bring pressure on progressives to join the working forces for his election, Mr. Hughes said, the program being to appeal to their judgment.

Nearly every one, the nominee added, seemed to be responsive to the senti-nent of the necessity for co-operation. The republican party, he con-tinued, had a perfectly straight and dear course to steer; it wanted to growd no one, to urge no one to join it, but to appeal to all.

Mr. Hughes expressed the opinion that the situation in Illinois and other places where republican and progressive leaders supporting him were in process of adjusting differences of opinion was a relatively minor phase of the national situation that probably had been exacerated and unquestions. been exaggerated

Owing to the excitement caused the night of July 15, when two men of Company K, 22d Infantry, climbed to a mountain peak to the north of Warren and lighted two fires, Col. Noble, commanding the regiment and also the militia units encamped in this locality, has issued an order that no en listed man shall light a fire out-

The two fires on the mountain top started a rumor that they had been lighted by Mexican agents as a means of signaling to the forces south of the international boundary line. Visions of a mid-night raid were rampant in the District National Guard camps and it later developed that there was much speculation in the regu lars' camp as to the origin of the

An investigation made the following day developed the fact that they were bonfires which the two infantrymen had lighted.

State Department Confirms Receipt of Carranza's Latest Note, But Gives Out No Details.

Although it was admitted at the State Department today that a note had been received from the de facto government of Mexico, under date of July 11, proposing the appointment of a joint commission to settle border difficulties, officials refused to comment upon the statement given out at Mexico City last night purporting to present the text of the communication.

It was learned from an authoritative source, however, that the Mexico City text, though substantially similar, is not identical with that presented by Eliseo Arredondo, Mexican ambassador designate, July 12.

Mr. Arredondo saw Acting Secretary Polk before the latter went to today's cabinet meeting. It was indicated after the meeting that no statement could be expected today. Mr. Polk's only comment was to reiterate that the ne gotiations were "progressing favorably." He is understood to have told Arredondo that he was not prepared to give a reply to the Mexican

Throughout the entire course of the dispute arising out of the Villa raid on certain air of complacency which au-bured well for an ample supply of tary affairs committee a few days class have professed willingness to dis-cuss this subject, but it has been made plain repeatedly that withdrawal could not be made the basis of an agreement for joint action against the bandits. There has been nothing to indicate that the State Department's attitude has undergone a change in this regard. Secretary Polk took with him to the cabinet meeting a memorandum of his conferences with Mr. Arredondo, which he supplemented with a verbal report of his latest meeting with the ambassador. The substance of previous conversations already have been reported to Secretary Lansing at Watertown, N. Y., where he is spending a month's vacation.

Calles' Action Regarded Favorable. War Department officials today interpreted the action of Gen. Calles the Carranza commander in Sonora, in returning the Nacozari railroad to American management as indicating a favorable change of sentiment on the part of Mexican military officials on the western part of the border.

Gen. Davis, commanding at Douglas, Ariz., telegraphed the department of the transfer. Authority has been grant-ed, he said, to bring daily passenger trains across the border for renovation and return, in accordance with the cus-tom pursued prior to the suspension of traffic by Mexican authorities. Permission has been given for ship-ment of coal from the United States for operation of the road.

Federal aid has been asked for the people in Morgantown and vicinity and Wilkes boro, and it was expected that similar requests would be made from other sections. Latest reports today were of great destruction by the floods in parts of Wilkes, Ashe, Watauga and Alexander county, and it was in those counties hat the greatest suffering among the people existed. In many places the people were said to be living on potatoes alone, all other foodstuffs having been carried away by the flood waters. Seven additional fatalities were reported overnight and the death toll from the floods now stands at from ighty to ninety. Denial is made of reports yesterday that ten persons had met death at Alta Pass and if there were no fatalities there, the known toll of life stands at eighty.

Heavy Damage to Railroads.

Reports of property destruction continue to be received as couriers arrive from sections of the state still cut off from communication. Latest advices are that the Virginia and Carolina rail road was badly damaged in Ashe and Watauga counties and that the Watauga and Yadkin Valley railway to Grandin, in Caldwell county, was almost destroyed.
From Black Mountains to Catawba railroads are reported to have been washed out in many places on the north-ern sides, while huge landslides have burled the rails at a number of points. buried the rails at a number of points. Several weeks probably will be required to repair the roads there, it is stated. Two tunnels near this city also are reported impassable.

CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 21.—Heavy the population last. CHARLOTTE, N. C., July 21.—Heavy rains in the mountain section last night caused the Catawba river to rise six feet higher than the level reached yesterday, temporarily suspending reconstruction work on railroad bridges and power lines, and adding additional alarm to the already grave situation. On account of disabled telegraph lines here the local government weather station is unable to issue but limited forecast reports.

It has caused north gales as far up the coast as Cape Cod, Mass., and was accompanied by rains along the coast, which did not extend far into the interior. The weather bureau today ordered storm warnings displayed from Sandy Hook, N. J., to Eastport, Me., and discontinued those signals southward to Cape Hatteras where they gave warning of the disturbance.

The War Department is investigating the necessity for lending federal aid to flood-stricken North Carolina. Messages have been received by Representatives Webb and Page of North Carolina, telling of the distressing conditions in Wilkes and Burke counties, where railroads, buildings and other things have been washed away and where there is a good deal of distress among the people, asking for help in the way of government supplies.

These messages have been forwarded to the War Department, which has begun an inquiry to determine the necessity of the federal government's intervention to help the state.

LONDON, July 21.-The Morning Post's Petrograd correspondent, while exulting in the success of the Russian push, declares that experts in Petrograd believe that final victory over Germany may yet be a year or more distant, adding "for the German grows stronger as the circumference of the defense contracts, and he probably will be strongest when once more driven back upon his own admirable home railway system. "There is still a school of experts who believe that the Germani should be encouraged to attack by steadily retreating before them, as no form of fighting nowadays costs so dearly as attack. Wellington's vic tories in Europe, Waterloo particularly, were won by retreat.

"But this scheme apparently is impossible at present, owing to the fact that western Europe goes to pieces morally at the very thought of retreat. This is unfortunate, for retirement is every whit as legitimate a military move as advance, especially in such a war as the present, where victory in the old sense is impossible."

BATTLE

LONDON, July 21.-The Anglo-French offensive in northern France is being vigorously pushed. Today's reports show the French holding tenaciously to ground gained and the British fighting their way farther into the German line. Driving north from Bazentin and Longueval toward Bapaume Gen. Sir Douglas Haig's troops have advanced as far as the Foureaux wood. The British rush even cleared this wood, but subsequently the Germans were able to win back a part of it.

South of the Somme the French have been able to hold trenches captured in their drive along a five-mile front on Thursday, withstanding a vigorous counter attack. South of Soyecourt, on the French right, according to the French war office, the Germans were driven back in disorder, sustaining serious losses.

Allies Are Confident. The resumption of the battle of the mme in the French sector has greatly enhanced the general confidence in operations on more than a minor scale was beginning to make the French results would have no morrow and that, as in the case of the Champagne offensive a year ago there might be reversion to the old trench warfare. Yesterday's bulletins effectually removed this impression.

A particularly fine piece of work from the French point of view was accomplished in the new sector attacked south of the river. East of the old French front, which ran from the east of Herbeville to haifway between that village and the Foquescourt-Vermandovillers road, the Germans had constructed, by months of patient toll, an underground fortification in a starshaped wood and on the slopes of a hill. There were ninety trenches in the wood, very deep with two series of underground shelters in which the soldiers lay snug during the hottest bombardments.

French May Extend Gains. The Germans here as in the Barleux and the Soyecourt region where their positions formed an inextricable maze of trenches offered a stouter resistance than elsewhere on the long line of attack But the French troops carefully prepared for their work and skillfully led, not only won through everywhere, but held on to their gains and were preparing last night to attempt to still further extend them. It now develops that yesterday's effort was due several days ago, but that the artillery preparation was delayed by heavy weather. The French commander's report that the preliminary bombardment was so effective that the losses of the attackers were comparatively. Light comparatively light.

Contrary to expectations the Germans have made no attempt to follow up the smashing blow delivered against the northern Verdun defenses a week ago. The French counter attacks, according to the official accounts are gradually winning back the ground gained by the Germans at heavy cost in the vicinity of Thiaumont and Fleury.

This inactivity on the part of the crown prince is interpreted by French military opinion as evidence that the Germans are finding increasing difficulty in concentrating troops at any one point on the front. The French officers say that each fresh assault on Verdun is requiring longer and longer time to prepare. They claim that the Germans took no less than eighteen days in preparation for the attack of July 12.

Australians Make Raid.
